Old Jupiter K. Pluvius and his first lieutenant, the Weather Man, must have cast their eyes over this department last week, when we announced to the world at large in a magnificent rhapsody of melody that spring was here. Otherwise we wouldn't have plodded our weary way home from the St. Patrick's Day dance, through a barrage of sleet, which later changed to snow.

But even if the elements seem to have conspired against us, we have only to point to the political poll being taken by The Hatchet to prove that the summer campaigns are just in the offing. That's a better sign of spring than the number of absentees from most of our classes.

Last week we complained about having this publication mixed up in politics, but it did no good. Throughout this week we are to think up all sorts of assumed names so we can stuff the ballot box for our favorite candidate, remembering that the Recorder's (nee Registrar's) Office does not check the eligibility of each individual to cast his ballot. Come to think of it, this feature will allow the disgruntled, defeated candidates' partisans to claim fraud and corruption. Then the ultimate outcome of the presidential election will have to be decided next November.

Personally, we believe these straw votes are food for thought, and we expect to voice our humble vote for some Democratic candidate, as yet unselected, out of reverence for our dear old Irish parents.

Our forecast, is, however, that the Republicans will win, with Hoover probably leading the field. The poll in Prof. West's classes shows the way the straws are falling, and besides, there are too many sons and daughters of Republican Members of Congress attending our fair University to give the poor minority Democrats an even break.

A co-ed just pipes up, "I'm losing my memory. I walked in a room at 11 o'clock, and AC-tually turned on the light." Yes, we've dated her up, and her phone number is to remain secret.

Women are begged to enter the political fray by the League of Women Voters, which holds that the intelligent feminine population should familiarize themselves with how this country is governed.

"Ye shades of Andrew Jackson! Don't women run this country now? Of course, a little scientific knowledge on the subject would help, but the League has only to look at elections to this, that, and the other thing on our campus. They get along quite well without science, thank you.

That bump you heard was Chaucer turning over in the grave. Alpha Chi Sigma is to give what they call a "Novelty Hoppe." This is the end. Any day now we expect to see "fine home-bred pork chops" advertised beside screaming full-page layouts telling of the wonders accomplished by a certain brand of "razor stroppe." Then Dick Rollo will be no more.

Spring football is with us again, and Potomac Park will be again populated by Buff and Blue warriors, chewing posts or anything available to get the necessary iron for next year's "Ironmen." We fervently pray, that with the difficult schedule facing the team in 1928, a full quota of men will report for practice, so if "Ironmen" are used next fall, it won't be by necessity.

Potomac Park reminds us. As we gleefully skidded around Haines Point at eighty miles an hour in our collegiate flivver, the thought came to us as we spilled the cop into the Potomac, that some business-like soul could make a fortune by training a spotlight on the back of each parked automobile in turn, and having an accomplice sell opaque shades to its occupants.

The popularity contest in The Cherry Tree has been abandoned, according to latest advice from the front. Still we can't quite understand it, for with the bowling contest shelved, the twenty cents formerly applied to each and every game could be donated to a fund boosting the sorority's favorite daughter. Bridge doesn't cost anything, you know, and one can get newspaper publicity out of it when local papers are short of copy.

Vague rumors float in of The Razz Berry, which is slated to appear at the Interfraternity Prom. Radical changes from previous issues are to be made, we hear, but with the advent of "warmer" stories in the sheet, we hope the passionate pink color of its pages will remain unchanged.

As a welcome change from previous nights of suffering, we hear the editors say that only three galleys more can go in the paper, and that even must be boiled down to three. Let's get stowed in the boiling down process, we shall lie us hence to the Green Lantern Sandwich Grill, where bridge may be still played as one eats.

GREAT MAJORITY OF COLUMBIANS FAVOR IDEALISM

Decide It Is Not Incompatible With Intelligence In Weekly Debate

BANQUET TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT, APRIL 27

Several Hotels Under Consideration of Committee in Charge of Affair

By JAMES G. WINGO

That idealism is not incompatible with intelligence is the belief of an overwhelming majority of the members of Columbian Debating Society. The weekly debate, held Friday evening, March 16, at Corcoran Hall 15, resulted in a decided victory for Lewis Dembitz and Lionel C. Stukes over Jacob Rosenthal and Wroe Alderson. The negative team composed of Rosenthal and Alderson assailed idealism vigorously but their inconsistencies greatly weakened their attack.

Stukes Stems Tide

Rosenthal swayed the house temporarily to his side when he pointed out a glaring error in a mathematical computation of Dembitz. Stukes, however, made an eloquent speech, which counteracted all the brilliant arguments of both Alderson and Rosenthal.

The subject for the debate on Friday, March 23, will be: "Resolved, That the cost of the Mississippi valley flood control measures should be borne by the country as a whole."

A. C. Shriver and Marie C. Nold will maintain the affirmative; R. L. Parsons and L. D. Atkins, the negative.

The committee in charge of the banquet have finally agreed to hold the proposed banquet on April 27. Several excellent places in which the banquet may be held are being considered by the committee.

SPRING FOOTBALL TO START TODAY

Crum Expects To Have Large Squad On Hand At First Workout

STUDENT SUPPORT URGED

Success on Gridiron Next Year Depends Much on Spring Work, Says Crum

Coach Harry Watson Crum announced that all football candidates will report to the gymnasium today at 2 o'clock p. m., to receive equipment for the spring football training which, according to Coach Crum's program, will start at once and last until the Easter vacation at which time practice will be suspended until after the holiday when it will again be resumed for a period of two weeks or more.

"Our team next year will depend wholly upon the number and quality of the men who report for spring training. As a football coach I am no magician and, therefore, I deem this period of preliminary training essential to our success on the football field next year in as much as I will have an opportunity to get a line on the material upon which I will draw for my first string team next fall.

Schedule Heavy

"At no time before have we been confronted with as heavy a schedule as we shall face next fall and in order to be prepared for it we shall be forced to make full use of every available opportunity for preparation," said Coach Crum in an interview last night.

Mr. Crum continued to state that with only fifteen men available for duty last year too much depended upon luck and that he hoped to have at least 34 men out for practice today. Those reporting for training today will be the men who will be invited to the training camp early next September. Coach Crum was particularly emphatic in stressing the point that under no conditions would any man be invited to the fall camp who had not reported for preliminary practice.

Freshmen to Report

In addition to the men of last year's varsity squad it is expected that every man on the past season's freshman squad will be on hand when the equipment is handed out. All other men of ability who are now in school and satisfy the one-year requirement are urged to be present at the gym this afternoon.

It was also learned that there will be several vacancies for students who desire to become assistant football managers. It is required that at least one season of assistantship be served before a student may become manager of the team. All those wishing to apply, as assistants to the present manager of football should apply at the gymnasium today.

In concluding the interview last night, Coach Crum gave to understand that the major teams on the present schedule had been secured only after great difficulty and that in order to retain them on the schedule from year to year it would be necessary for the Buff and Blue to make a very creditable showing and that such a showing could be made only after all students had concentrated their full efforts towards assuring the success of the team by giving full support and by urging all possible candidates to report today or as soon after as possible. The fraternities on the campus in particular can be of tremendous value in this respect.

PEP CLUB PLANS PRIZES; DANCES TO BE CONTINUED

Disclosure of plans for a Prize Waltz will be the feature of Saturday's Pep Club dance, Ford Young, president, has announced. The success of the dance held March 17, has determined officers of the club to continue the dances.

Next year's officers will be elected at a meeting to be held in C. H. 1, on Thursday, April 5.

G. W. MEN HELP ARLISS

Seven George Washington boys helped George Arliss put over the "Merchant of Venice" at the Belasco last week. Irvin McClellan, Bob Gray, Joe O'Connor, Charles Jaquette, Barrie Conger and Bob and Fred Weigle were the boys who performed on the other side of the footlights.

GEOLOGIC FRAT TO MEET

The next open meeting of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, geologic fraternity, will be held in Room 34 of Building 4, on Tuesday evening, March 27, at 7 o'clock. The program will consist of short talks by S. F. Turner and W. P. Popenoe, members of the local chapter.

DEBATERS MEET OHIOANS TONIGHT; DEFEAT DAVIDSON

Seymour, Sanders, and Frisbie Argue For G. W., Against Ohio Wesleyan

ARMED INTERVENTION TOPIC OF ALL MEETS

Davidson Opposed by Hatch and Frisbie; Colgate, Rutgers and N. Y. U. to be Met

Ohio Wesleyan University's debating team will meet the George Washington Varsity debaters tonight in Corcoran Hall at 8 p. m. The Methodists are considered to have one of the best debating aggregations in the Middle West, although in two meetings last year, one here and one at Ohio, the Colonials secure an even break.

"Protection of investments abroad by armed force" is the subject to be debated. The George Washington team is assuming its customary stand in this encounter, and will argue tonight that the United States Government should continue to protect its citizens' foreign investments as at present. In the debate with Davidson College last Wednesday also, G. W. took this view.

George Washington will be represented by John L. Seymour, Gwynn Sanders, and Karl Frisbie. Seymour and Sanders have been on teams opposing Ohio Wesleyan previously, while Frisbie has had experience in the recent debate with Davidson and in several other contests. The men from the Ohio school who will oppose this group are Paul Anderson, Bernhard Mercer, and Philip Ebeling.

Starts at Eight

Due to the prominence of the visitors in debating circles, a large attendance is expected at this encounter. The debate starts at 8 o'clock tonight in Corcoran Hall. Admission is free.

Last Wednesday evening D. L. Hatch and Karl Frisbie took the side of George Washington against Davidson College, whose representatives were Robert C. Grady and W. Kendrick Pritchett. Although no formal decision was given, the vote of the audience was in favor of the Colonials.

Grady, the first speaker, arguing against armed protection, said that it engenders ill-will, tends toward economic exploitation, and causes bloodshed. "The United States is a great cutthroat," he quoted from a South American newspaper.

Colgate to Come

Colgate University's team will furnish the opposition in a debate here Friday evening. Sanders, Frisbie, and Seymour will probably represent George Washington, and will say that the United States should cease to protect its citizens abroad. Theodore Weppner, Harold L. Ray, and Franklin B. Lincoln, Jr., are to compose the visiting squad. This debate is to take place in Stockton Hall.

PI DELT NOW HEADED BY ROWLAND LYON

Journalistic Fraternity Meets at T. U. O. House; Plans for Razz-Berry Underway

Rowland Lyon was elected President of Pi Delta Epsilon at a meeting of the journalistic fraternity held at the Theta Upsilon Omega house, 1610 Twentieth Street N. W., last Sunday morning.

Plans for the Razz Berry, annual razz sheet of the society, were sketched out. The sheet will appear at the Interfraternity Prom, which is being held at the Willard, March 30.

A novel idea will be brought out in the Razz Berry, according to members of the fraternity. The paper, while continuing to criticize campus life indiscriminately, will be distinctly different from previous Razz Berries.

WEISZ ADDRESSES SKETCH CLUB AT RECENT MEETING

A meeting of the Sketch Club was held in the Antique Room of the Architectural Building, Thursday, March 15, at 7.30 p. m. Mr. Eugene Weisz, a member of the Department of Architecture Faculty, gave constructive criticism on the work of the members.

The sophomores are also planning an entertainment pavilion for the tourist camp on Potomac Park. The members of the Senior class of the Department of Architecture are completing plans for a skyscraper.

With the awarding of the silver scholarship cup to Alpha Delta Theta sorority, the presentation of an individual trophy to Virginia Shull, who had the highest scholastic average among George Washington women, and the announcement of the scholarship averages, the Panhellenic Scholarship Luncheon came to a dramatic close.

Sorority ratings, which were not read until after luncheon, ran as follows:

Alpha Delta Theta, 87.69; Kappa Delta, 85.58; Delta Zeta, 85.37; Alpha Delta Pi, 85.25; Pi Beta Phi, 84.07; Gamma Beta Pi, 83.09; Zeta Tau Alpha, 83.43; Sigma Kappa, 82.82; Phi Mu, 82.75; Phi Delta, 82.24; Chi Omega, 81.86. No sorority had below a "B" average.

Proceeding the awards of the individual and sorority trophies there were two-minute speeches by many of the luncheon guests.

GERTRUDE ELY SPEAKS ON "VOTELESS" LEAGUE

Speeches Made in Classes by Members of League of Women Voters

"What College Leagues Can Do" will be the subject of an address to be given by Miss Gertrude Ely, Counselor of the National League of Women Voters on Thursday night, March 22nd, in Corcoran Hall 1, at 8 o'clock. The League wishes to form a unit at George Washington.

Mrs. Robert Imbrie, Mrs. Hager, Miss Ethel M. Smith, and Miss Muriel Fritz, all members of the Voteless District of Columbia League of Women Voters, spoke in political science, economics, sociology, and education classes.

Muriel Fritz, Chairman of the New Voters Committee, said that politics had never been more challenging than during the present year. She continued, "Sensational developments on Capitol Hill have brought home to thinking men and women the need for honest interest and action in behalf of clean government."

"Contrary to the usual feminine opinion, politics and government need be neither dirty nor dry. If you married and went to a state where your husband could collect your weekly pay envelope or worse still, to a state where your husband could will away from you to a stranger the custody of your children, you would have a keen personal interest in the legal status of women in that state. So it is in other fields; efficiency and public welfare in government become relation to them."

"The work of the League of Women Voters is based on study and accurate information; it is broad, and it is tremendously important, to public-spirited women. If Washington has as long and active a life as I believe it will, you'll want to be in at the start."

G. W. Women's Team Loses Two Debates

Defeated in Debates With Maryland and New York Teams March 13 and 15

The Women's Debating team of George Washington University lost to University of Maryland in a debate March 13, and to New York University Thursday, March 15.

Helen Prentiss, Louise Feinstein and Lillian Rhodes upheld the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, That the U. S. should prohibit the use of armed force for the protection of private investments on foreign soil." In the debate with Maryland.

In the debate with New York University, Inez Howard, Nancy Griswold and Lillian Rhodes, represented G. W. on the same question.

HATCHET'S PLAN FOR STRAW VOTE GETS UNDER WAY

Ballots For Nation-Wide Poll Appear In This Issue of Hatchet

MUST BE RETURNED TO HATCHET OFFICE FRIDAY

"Independent" Sponsors Unique Poll Sounding Out Student Opinion

Ballots to determine student opinion on the coming presidential election appear today as a part of a nationwide straw vote sponsored by the Independent and conducted at George Washington by The University Hatchet. The ballots, which give the names of the five outstanding candidates arranged in such a way that every student may indicate his choice, must be filled out, signed, and deposited in the mail slot in the door of The Hatchet Office not later than 7 p. m., Friday, March 23. All information will be considered strictly confidential.

Sponsored by Independent

The poll is sponsored by the Independent, a weekly newspaper published in Boston, Mass. The leading college and university papers in the country are cooperating in the move to sound out student opinion regarding the 1928 presidential race.

Leading men from each party who will figure in the balloting are: Curtis Davis, Hoover, Lowden, and Willis, Republicans, and Donahay, Reed of Montana, Democrats. Inasmuch as students of the University represent every State in the Union, results of the poll here should be more or less indicative of the ultimate outcome.

Members of the Board of Editors hope that every student as well as faculty member, will express his choice. Results of a poll located in the Capital City will be watched with special interest.

JUDGES WILL ACCEPT PEACE PRIZE ESSAYS

Alexander Wilbourn Weddell Prize Compositions Must be in by May First

Professor Charles E. Hill has just announced that he will receive all essays on peace promotion for the Alexander Wilbourn Weddell Prize of $250.

All students, he said, who are candidates for any degree at George Washington University may compete. The composition should be about 5,000 words in length and contain a table of contents, footnotes and a bibliography.

The essay should show original research, accuracy and should have a touch of the personality of the writer. Clearness and the proper organization of material will count much with the judges, it was learned, and literary form no less.

The subject may be any one relating to peace and its past or possible relation to international questions. Even the evaluation of work done by peace promoting agencies will not be amiss, it is stated.

All compositions must be turned in to Dr. Hill, or one of the other members of the committee; Charles S. Collier, of the Law School, and Dr. Oscar B. Hunter, Assistant Dean of the Medical School at their respective offices.

The essays submitted shall become the property of the University, and may not thereafter become printed or published without the written consent of the University. Moreover, the University reserves the right to withhold the award if no essay attaining the required degree of excellence is submitted.

The prize will be given at Commencement, June 13.

POPULARITY CONTEST IS ABANDONED BY ANNUAL

Subscriptions Should be Given at Once; Only Five Hundred Printed

According to members of the Board of the Cherry Tree the Popularity Contest has been abandoned because the plans which were first made proved unsatisfactory and it is too late now to carry through any others.

Students who wish to subscribe must do so at once or run the risk of not being able to get a Cherry Tree, as there are only five hundred available. Subscriptions can be given to sorority members or members of the staff. Law School students can turn in subscriptions to the Law School Office.

Any Cherry Tree prints which have not yet been given in must be sent immediately to White's Studio in New York or they cannot appear in the book.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1928

THIS IS YOUR CHANCE TO VOTE

"Voteless Washington," or a considerable part of it at least, has at last gotten a long-looked-for opportunity to express its opinion, if nothing more, in the looming 1928 presidential election. The fact that the District of Columbia has no voice in the government of the city of Washington, not to mention the government of the nation, has been a constant source of irritation among thinking people in this locality. The obvious reason for this continued disfranchisement of Washingtonians seems too evident to mention here.

Elsewhere in this paper is a ballot containing the names of the five more prominent men of each party who appear as the most promising presidential timber. While this ballot means nothing as far as the actual election in November is concerned, a real purpose will be achieved if the students and faculty of George Washington University support the poll.

The Independent, one of the more widely-known weekly newspapers in the country, is the sponsor of the straw vote, which is being conducted this week on a nation-wide basis through the medium of the more prominent college papers in the country.

In order to be of any real value, this poll must express the will of the great majority of the students and faculty members in each college and university. The results, when finally tabulated, will present a clear, concise opinion of a large portion of the voters in the country, and will doubtless forecast to a certain extent the ultimate result of the election.

This means, in order that the poll at George Washington may be of maximum value, that it is the duty of each student and faculty member here to fill out the ballot which appears in this paper, clip it, and turn it in at The Hatchet Office not later than 7 p. m. on Friday, March 23.

SPRING FOOTBALL

Facing the stiffest schedule ever booked by a George Washington football team, Coach H. Watson Crum's call for candidates to start spring training today brings us to the realization of an unpleasant, but salient fact regarding athletics here.

Men, or rather the lack of men, has been the stumbling block of every coach at George Washington since time immemorial. Crum's abilities as generalissimo of the football team are too well known to followers of the sport to warrant setting forth. What happened last Fall with the "Colonial Iron Men" has gone down in indelible ink in football history. What will happen this coming Fall when the Buff and Blue eleven engages some of the most powerful teams in the East depends, and depends almost entirely, upon the number and caliber of men who turn out for Spring football practice.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

A new project for George Washington University women comes to us this week in the attempt to organize a George Washington unit of The National League of Women Voters. This organization interests wide-awake women throughout the country. State and local leagues, composing the National, exist in forty-three States and the District of Columbia and even in the distant Territory of Hawaii. Leagues of "New Voters" are flourishing in universities and women's colleges.

The work of the National League has been defined as "an experiment in political education, for the greater participation of women in government." If it sounds dry, find out how many and various are your own relations to government and you will soon decide you want a share in controlling what so vitally affects you.

George Washington University has been criticized for the lack of any organization, for men or women, that shows interest in what is happening outside campus life.

Here is an opportunity for the women of the University to disprove this accusation.

SOCIALLY speaking things seem to have quieted down a bit—no doubt due to the time necessary for the arduous labors of bridge and bowling contests.

Frances Walker, former G. W. student, gave a bridge-shower on March 20, for Janet Smith, who is to be married on April 7.

Girls from Maryland State University were guests at a luncheon in the Phi Phi rooms last Friday.

The nineteenth installation banquet of the local chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will be held at the Lafayette Hotel on March 24. The Grand Secretary will be the guest of honor with many members from the alumni association.

Mary Virginia Leckie was a visitor at Annapolis last week-end.

Dorothy Latimer has recently returned from a house party at Vassar.

NATIONAL THOUGHT DEPENDENT ON FRATS

"National thought is moulded around fraternity tables," said Dr. Charles Needham, former President of George Washington University, on the occasion of the Phi Sigma Kappa Founder's Day Banquet at the Carlton Hotel last Saturday night.

Speaking of the activities of George Washington University social fraternities, as well as social fraternities all over the United States, Dr. Needham, advocated the addition of a monthly round table meeting to take place in fraternity houses for the purpose of discussing live topics of national importance, to the fraternities' regular calendar of social events.

Other speakers of the evening were Pern E. Heninger, who responded to a toast, "Our Deceased Brothers"; Senator M. M. Neely, "Our Fraternity"; Robert M. Estes, Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, "Our Chapter Alumni"; and George B. Martin, President of the active chapter "Lambda Chapter." Brief comments were made by Congressman Bowman of West Virginia, William Zimmerman, Philadelphia Marine Attorney, and other prominent alumni.

The program included dinner music, piano solos by Mr. George Thompson, well known local artist, and a group of vocal selections by Harcourt C. Sonntag, soloist of the George Washington University Glee Club. T. Hudson McKee acted as toastmaster. About seventy of the fraternity's members were present.

A theater party at Keith's has been planned for Wednesday, April 11. Everyone is invited and tickets may be obtained from any member of the Episcopal Club.

WM. AND MARY WIN FROM G. W. SIX BY 29 TO 26

Fast Game Played On Williamsburg Court Last Saturday, March 17

G. W. CENTERS PROVE OUTSTANDING PLAYERS

Colonials Lead for First Three Quarters; Lose in Last Two Minutes

Colonial women tossers were defeated by the William and Mary six in a last quarter rally staged by the Indianettes on the Williamsburg floor Saturday, March 17. The final score was 29 to 26.

George Washington led through the first three quarters only to lose by a last minute spurt on the part of the home team.

The George Washington center combination of Turnbull and Omwake was the outstanding feature of the game. Their passes were swift and sure and their teamwork was excellent. Crumley at forward was responsible for 21 points of the 26 amassed by the Buff and Blue.

Game Was Fast

From the first whistle the game was fast. William and Mary made the first two baskets but failed to score again in the quarter. Crumley started with a foul shot followed by three two-pointers. The period ended 7-4 for George Washington.

The Colonials kept the lead which they had acquired, scoring eight more points in the second quarter. McGregor sank a foul shot and Crumley made three baskets and a foul shot. William and Mary added seven tallies and the whistle blew with the count 15 to 11 in favor of the visitors.

In the third period the Orange and Green team cut George Washington's lead from 4 points to 1. Tanno, who was put in place of Peirce at the start of the second half, scored six for her team. The game stood 18 to 17 when the quarter ended.

William and Mary took the offensive immediately in the fourth quarter when Tanno put the ball in to make the score 19-18. Crumley then sank the ball for two points putting George Washington again in the lead.

From then until the last two minutes of play the advantage was held by first one team and then the other. By scoring two baskets in quick succession William and Mary obtained a three-point lead just as the whistle blew the end of the game, 29 to 26, William and Mary.

This game marks the close of the women's varsity basketball intercollegiate competition at the University. A post-season game is being planned with the G. W. alumni which will probably be played in the next few weeks.

MATCH WITH HOLTON IS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Close Competition Expected in Fencing Tilt at 3.30

Keen competition is expected in the fencing match between Holton Arms and G. W. U., on Wednesday, March 21, at 3.30, in the Gymnasium.

These two teams are said to be evenly matched, although Holton Arms appears at a disadvantage with young girls still in "prep" school. Both schools have just begun this activity this year under the coaching of Major Blount, therefore the methods should be similar with the honors going to the more adept pupils.

BASEBALL NOTICE

Baseball players are asked to report at an important meeting of diamond candidates to be held Monday, March 26, at 12 noon, in C. H. I. Whether or not the University will have a baseball team depends largely upon the number of men who turn out for this meeting.

G. W. RIFLE TEAM DEFEATS HOPKINS

NATIONAL MATCHES SOON

Visiting Teams in Local Match to Dance at Professional Fraternity Dance

The G. W. riflemen finished the N. R. A. League Matches Saturday, easily defeating Johns Hopkins 1339-1110, and ringing up their tenth victory.

The match was one-sided and the visitors did not extend the Stokemen sufficiently to lend interest to the shooting. The result was the lowest score that George Washington has made this year.

From now until the Intercollegiate are fired next week the men will be engaged in the most strenuous practice of the season in preparation for the event. Plans for the firing have been completed and the range will be put into perfect condition during the ensuing week.

Fifteen Relays Planned

The match which is scheduled for Saturday, March 24, 1928, will start at one in the afternoon and will be completed before six. An ingenious system has been worked out whereby one man from each team will fire in each relay. Since each man fires three strings and a team is composed of five shooting members, there will be fifteen relays.

All teams from the Maryland, District of Columbia, and Virginia League are eligible to compete in this match and special invitations have been sent to several other colleges and universities.

Cincinnati Team Accepts

Of these the University of Cincinnati has accepted and will send a powerful team to attempt to wrest the shoulder-to-shoulder title from G. W. It is expected that the spirited North Carolina team which last year hobbled, walked, and hopped its way to the Outdoor Matches at Camp Meade, will repeat this year and be here to do battle on the twenty-fourth. The strong Navy team has not yet been definitely heard from, but it is hoped that they, too, will be present.

High Score Team Honored

The high scorers in all of the regional leagues will be compared and that team making the highest aggregate score of the day will be declared National Intercollegiate Champions.

After the local match visiting teams will attend a dance given by Alpha Chi Sigma, chemical fraternity. The Women's Rifle Team has offered its cooperation and will assist in the entertainment.

The match may be open to the public. Whether or not this will be the case has not been decided, but with the participants and officials numbering fifty or sixty, it is doubtful that there will be much room for spectators.

COMPANIONATE UNIONS DEBATED BY MENORAHS

Companionate marriage was the subject of a spirited debate among members of the Menorah Society at their meeting in Corcoran Hall, March 14. The debate was carried on by means of an open forum. No decision was made.

A musical program preceded the discussion. Esther Weckler, Zelda Wolfe, Al Rosauk and Louis Litman contributed musical selections.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting.

S. P. E. WINS CUP IN CLOSE MATCH

Interfraternity Bowling Championship Goes to S. P. E. By Defeat of T. U. O.

OSMOND SAVES THE GAME

Spare in Ninth Gives Third and Final Game to Sigma Phi Epsilon

In a never-to-be-forgotten finish, the Interfraternity bowling cup was won last Thursday evening by Sigma Phi Epsilon, taking 2 out of 3 games from Theta Upsilon Omega. In the final match of the series.

With the score tied in the third and deciding game, Osmond proved the man of the hour for S. P. E., and came through with a spare in his ninth box to win for his team by the slim margin of 7 pins.

Osmond Garner's Spare

When his turn came, S. P. E. was leading by 3 pins, but Osmond trailed his opponent by 3 pins which left matters even. His spare, therefore, in the ninth box gave him the advantage over Pomeroy, his opponent, who failed to make a mark.

The first game saw T. U. O. win by a margin of 48 pins, due to the fine rolling of Pomeroy, who knocked down 137 pins, giving him the high game for the set. The second game went to S. P. E. by a margin of 29 pins. Willey, of S. P. E. was high man in this game with 122, which, incidentally helped him to be the high scorer for the evening with a set of 341. Then came the third game with Willey again high man with 117, and Osmond's spare in the pinch.

The team scores follow:

Sigma Phi Epsilon
Willey	102	122	117	341

Frosh Quintet Closes Splendid Court Season

Tom David Leads Individual High Scoring With Frazier in Second Place

In closing the season with a win over the Catholic University frosh, the Colonial yearlings completed a most unusual and successful season. The season was a success from the point of view of games won and lost, seven being credited to the win side of the ledger and three to the other side for a grand percentage of .700.

In achieving such an enviable record the Buff and Blue yearlings scored 243 points to 171 for their opponents.

Tom David, brilliant freshman forward, leads his teammates in individual scoring with a grand total of 71 points. Frazier's 62 points come second on the list.

KAYSER TO BE GUEST AT FILIPINO LUNCHEON

Affair to be Held at Raleigh Hotel March 25

The other guests of honor will be the advisors of the other organizations participating in the affair. The Philippine clubs of the American University, the National University and the District of Columbia College will be represented.

The guests of honor and the presidents of the different clubs will give short talks during the luncheon, which will begin at one o'clock.

MATHEMATICS CLUB LEARNS TO PLAY NIM

Goldberg Demonstrates New Game to Club; Simmons Talks on Poles and Polars

"Nim," a new mathematical game, furnished the feature of the Math Club meeting on March 14. This new indoor pastime was introduced by Michael Goldberg, president of the club, who defeated all comers at the game after showing it to them.

The game appears to be very simple. Several numbers are written and the contestants take turns in decreasing the numbers until all of them are zero. The player making the final move wins. However, to play the game scientifically, one must use the binary system of numbers. Then by using certain facts from the theory of numbers, which were explained by Mr. Goldberg, a player can invariably win. Some of Mr. Goldberg's victims included Mr. Berry and Dr. Johnston, of the Mathematics faculty.

The other speech of the evening was given by Marcellus Simmons. His subject was "Poles and Polars," which belongs to the study of Analytic Geometry.

The next meeting of the club will be a joint one with the Physics Colloquium, to take place on Thursday, March 29. Prof. Erwin will speak on Hyperbolic Functions.

ALPHA DELTA PI LEADS IN BRIDGE

Phi Mu Holds Vantage In League Two of Pan-Hel Tourney

PLAQUE GOES TO WINNER

Award Will be Made at Pan-Hellenic Prom in April; Final Game March 27

Alpha Delta Pi is leading League 1 in the Intersorority Bridge Contest with three wins and one defeat and Phi Mu is leading League 2 with two wins and one defeat.

Other scores for League 1 are as follows: Gamma Beta Pi, two wins and two defeats; Delta Zeta, two winning scores; Zeta Tau Alpha and Pi Beta Phi each one win and one defeat and Kappa Delta three defeats. Scores for League 2 include one defeat and one win each for Alpha Delta Theta, Phi Delta and Chi Omega and one defeat for Sigma Kappa.

Finals March 27

The final game of the winners of the two leagues will be played on Tuesday, March 27, at the time and place to be selected by the winners.

Myrtle Crouch, chairman in charge of awards, has stated that the final winner will be presented a bronze plaque with a wooden border bearing the name of the sorority and the date won. This plaque will in all probability be presented to the winning sorority at the Pan-Hellenic Prom to be held in April. The presentation will be made by Julia Denning, Chairman of the Intersorority Bridge Contest, or the president of the Pan-Hellenic Association.

Sororities are urged by the committee to carry out the schedule of games as arranged by Miss Denning and to report the scores to her after each game, in order to facilitate determination of the winners for the two leagues.

G. W. LAW GRAD FIRST GIRL TO HOLD OFFICE

Amanda Strayer, First Woman City Solicitor in Ohio, Elected in November

Amanda Z. Strayer, graduate of George Washington Law School class of '23, is the first woman city solicitor in Ohio. Miss Strayer was elected in November after one of the hardest fought political battles staged in her town, Steubenville, for years.

After her graduation from the George Washington Law School, Miss Strayer passed the District Bar examinations, and in December, 1923, passed the Ohio Bar examinations. She took courses at the University of Cincinnati, before opening a law office in Steubenville.

Miss Strayer resigned her appointment as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney on January 1, 1925, to take up her new work as city solicitor. In her duties as assistant to the prosecutor, she handled liquor law prosecutions in the county courts.

Last November she was elected after having won the nomination in August, over three other candidates. Her Democratic opponent, in the November elections, a former probate court judge, withdrew and left her unopposed.

In the capacity of city solicitor, Miss Strayer has opposed the mayor in an attempt to oust the chairman of the local civil service commission. This case is now in the courts, the ejected commissioner having sued on the charges of prejudice and lack of sufficient cause for removal.

Amanda Strayer was active in George Washington affairs and was a member of Kappa Beta Pi, the Women's Legal Fraternity.

Jetta Goudal In New Exotic Role At Fox

"Forbidden Woman", Current at Local Theater; Jan Garber's Stage Band Scores Hit

Jetta Goudal, supported by Joseph Schildkraut, in "The Forbidden Woman", is the screen feature at the Fox Theatre all this week, while, on the stage there is presented a Mardi Gras of syncope in which is featured the famous stage band of Jan Garber.

Miss Goudal's latest picture gives her another exotic role in "Zita," a secret service agent of the Sultan of Morocco, who marries one brother only to win the love of the other, both of whom are in the French army.

Locals of the story in both Morocco and France with the consequent opportunities for highly colorful screen pictures as well as serving adequately to create an atmospheric story has been pronounced as the best of its kind to reach the motion picture screen.

Jan Garber has made several appearances in Washington. He returns to the Fox with a new and greater aggregation of musicians that are being accorded great praise during the present tour.

MOTHER'S CLUB TO BE INSTITUTED BY COUNCIL

Initiation and Graduation of Mothers to be Featured; First Meeting at Vocational Conference

Plans are being formulated by the Women's Advisory Council for a Mother's Club at George Washington. The success of the Freshmen Mother's Day held last December made this idea seem practicable. The Council believes that there is a definite need in the University for such an organization, and that this has been proven by the general ignorance of mothers of school affairs, and their lively interest in them when shown what is being done.

Helping their daughters to choose a suitable and interesting vocation, is to be the main goal of the club. Dean Rose has suggested that there be three meetings a year. A first meeting to be held in October, when the mothers of freshmen girls will be initiated with a social meeting at which tea will be served; a second meeting, in January, with a business meeting in the morning, introduced by President Marvin, and speeches by prominent members on the campus about scholarship, activities and sports. Luncheon and a social meeting will follow; and a third meeting in May during which the mothers of Senior girls will "graduate."

Since vocational training and discussion about that subject in the home are to be their chief functions, the first meeting will be on the morning of the opening day of the Vocational Guidance Conference, now being planned by the Women's Advisory Council. Discussion groups will be formed, in which the mothers will gain some idea of the importance of choosing a vocation early in the college career. If the group shows itself sufficiently interested, each student will be permitted to take her mother to each of her classes once a year. With such a Mother's Club the Council hopes that the contact between home and school will be more closely cemented.

FRATS PROBATIONED AT C. U.

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (IP).—More than 30 fraternities and sororities at the University of California at Los Angeles have been placed on probation for their failure to comply with the regulations covering campus organizations. The probationary period will last for two months.

OXFORD LIBRARY LACKS BOTH LIGHT AND HEAT

Oregon Prof Says European Libraries Have no Facilities Such as Those Here

EUGENE, Ore. (IP).—The libraries in Europe make no pretense at service; they are purely aristocratic, and are used on the whole by only research workers, according to S. Stephenson Smith, associate professor of English at the University of Oregon, who is quoted by the Oregon Daily Emerald.

The great Bodleian library at Oxford has neither light nor heat, is cold as a tomb most of the time, and is open during the middle of the day only. The founders, said Mr. Smith, when they started this library, forbade the installation of light and heat owing to the danger to the precious books and manuscripts.

They are not libraries as we understand them, said Smith; they have no circulation, no shelves, and it probably would require an act of parliament to take a book from either of the two great libraries of England, the British Museum and the Bodleian. These two libraries have a copy of every book that has been copyrighted and printed in England, and together they have a total of nearly five million volumes and manuscripts.

Dust Eight Inches Thick

In general, the European libraries are not well administered. It takes about four weeks to get a book from the great Prussian State Library, and one is extremely careful when he enters and more so when he leaves not to appear suspicious. The Great State Library of France, Professor Smith says, doesn't appear to have been swept since Richelieu built it. The dirt under the tables is about eight inches deep. It is almost impossible to use the catalogues, since there is no index-finding system. The entries are made in big black books. The students at Oxford and Cambridge buy their own study books, as do most of the people in England. On the continent, municipal libraries are rare, but they are beginning to abound in England.

"Too bad Shakespeare wasn't born in London."
"How come?"
"Because I wrote it in a theme."

PRINCETON SENIORS GET UNLIMITED CLASS CUTS

PRINCETON, N. J. (IP).—Upon the suggestion of the Undergraduate Council at Princeton, unlimited lecture cuts have been granted for the rest of the college year to all seniors except those who are under discipline.

Dean Gauss' statement read: "After consultation with the Undergraduate Council, this office has decided to grant as an experiment, to all seniors, except such as at present are under discipline, the privilege of so-called 'unlimited cuts' for the remainder of this academic year."

This means that seniors during the present term will be relieved from the compulsory attendance upon those class exercises in which there is nothing of the nature of a daily report or a daily recitation, or a daily test or laboratory work, or test assigned in connection with lecture courses.

WORLD DEBATERS SEND S. O. S.

EUGENE, Ore. (IP).—Declaring that the debaters have spent more money than they should have in their world debating tour, the Associated Students of the University of Oregon have to date refused to advance any more money to the Oregon World Tour Debate Team, reported stranded in New York City without funds.

The debaters have been financing their trip mostly through the proceeds of the debates. When they left Oregon, according to student finance officials, they were given $600, which was supposed to be enough to see them through. They were not to ask for more.
